Sometimes when we sing or talk about our commitment to God, it's easy to make dutiful, determined declarations that may be more centered on us than on God. So with this song, I wanted to give fathers an anthem they could sing with and over their families about their commitment to God, but I wanted it to be very God centered and to be a reminder; not that, "We're going to serve the Lord and the world and the flesh and the devil aren't going to stop us because we're so determined," but, "Of course we're going to serve the Lord- look how good He is! Who in their right mind wouldn't serve the Lord?!"
